

Alisa Roberta Gukasian (she/her) is a classical violinist and educator based in Southern California. She is currently pursuing doctoral studies in Violin Performance at the UCLA Herb Alpert School of Music under Professors Varty Manouelian and Movses Pogossian. She also serves as the EMMI and K–12 Instrumental Assistant at Crossroads School for Arts and Sciences and has performed in Russia, Armenia, and the United States.

An advocate for culturally rooted music education, Alisa is an AMP Fellow with UCLA's Armenian Music Program, where she studies the kamancha and engages in community outreach.

Her teaching emphasizes technical clarity, expressive depth, and mentorship. She holds a Master of Music from UCLA and dual bachelor's degrees from California State University, Northridge, where she studied with Dr. Lorenz Gamma. She was Assistant Concertmaster of the CSUN Symphony and received Honorable Mention in the UCLA All-Star Competition.